Form MT-R Instructions

Purpose of this Form

Montana and North Dakota have a reciprocal agreement that Montana will not tax North Dakota residents on compensation for personal or professional services performed in Montana, and North Dakota will not tax Montana residents on compensation for services performed in North Dakota. Please note that the wages you earn for work in Montana are subject to income tax in North Dakota.

Further, Montana employers of North Dakota residents are not required to withhold Montana income tax from those employees' compensation. Similarly, North Dakota employers of Montana residents are not required to withhold North Dakota income tax from those employees' compensation.

Instructions for Employee

Fill out the form completely. Otherwise, your employer is required to withhold Montana income tax from your wages.

Your employer will be able to provide you with its federal identification number.

Make a copy of this form for your records and give the original to your employer.

If you do not want Montana income tax withheld from your wages, you must complete this form and give it to your employer by February 28 of the calendar year to which you want it to apply, within 30 days of when you begin working or within 30 days of when you become a North Dakota resident. You must complete a new form and give it to your employer each year to continue receiving an exemption from withholding.

If you do not complete this form and give it to your employer as explained above, your employer must withhold Montana income tax from your wages.

If Montana income tax was already withheld from your wages, you must complete and file a Montana Individual Income Tax Return, Form 2, at the end of the year to obtain a refund. Please refer to Form 2 and its instructions for more information about how to obtain this refund.

Instructions for Employer

Employees who reside in North Dakota must complete this form and give it to you by February 28 of the calendar year to which it applies or within 30 days after they begin working for you or change their residence. Employees who live in states other than North Dakota, including Montana, cannot use this form.

For forms received by February 28, mail the original on or before March 31 to:

Montana Department of Revenue
PO Box 5805
Helena, MT 59604-5805

For new employees or employees who change their state of residence during the year, send the form within 30 days after the employee gives it to you.

An employee must complete this form and give it to you each year to continue receiving an exemption from withholding.

You may be required to resume Montana withholding on the employee's compensation earned in Montana if the department determines that an employee's certificate is false or unsubstantiated.
