

Promo Delivery

As the world's largest TV ad delivery network, we also send promos to media destinations. Our high quality, cloud-based technology delivers promos in your preferred file format, using AWS S3 Delivery, Aspera, our Media Downloader Application (MDA), your FTP server or the Extreme Reach web-based platform.

Getting Started

If you're not already receiving promos from Extreme Reach, simply contact the Video Network team at videonetwork@extremereach.com or 800.958.0066 to get started.

Notifications

Receive automatic notifications when new promos are available through Extreme Reach (example below). If someone else on your team needs to receive promo delivery notifications, we can add as many additional recipients as you like. Just contact us at support@extremereach.com or 800.324.5672.

Wait! Please do not reply to this notification as it is not a monitored inbox. If you have any questions, simply forward this email to support@extremereach.com or call us at 800-324-5672.

Downloading Promos

1. Find new promos by going to Promo Deliveries within your Extreme Reach account.
2. To view a low-res proxy of the promo, click on the Preview Proxy icon for that spot in the Actions column.
3. To download the broadcast version of the promo in your preferred format, simply click on the Download icon in the Actions column. If you are set up to use one of the download options, the file will deliver to your download folder automatically.

The screenshot shows the 'Promo Deliveries' page in the Extreme Reach interface. The left sidebar has a red circle '1' next to the 'Promo Deliveries' menu item. The main content area has search filters for ISCI/Ad-ID, Advertiser, Title, Destination, Status, and Delivery Date. Below the filters is a table with columns: DATE, ADVERTISER, ISCI/AD-ID, TITLE, LENGTH, DESTINATION, STATUS, DELIVERY DATE, and ACTIONS. The ACTIONS column contains icons for 'Preview Proxy' and 'Download'. Red circles '2' and '3' point to these icons in the first two rows of the table.
